

SF Bay CRN eNews – Summer, 2020

Dear Colleagues and Friends,

Welcome again to the San Francisco Bay Collaborative Research Network (SFBayCRN) eNews. SFBayCRN facilitates primary health care practice-based research partnerships between researchers and clinical practice groups at UCSF, in the greater Bay Area, and beyond. We offer free initial consultations on practice-based research design and implementation for our members. To learn more about SFBayCRN, please contact our program coordinator, Erica Wong, or visit: www.sfbaycrn.org.

Best Regards,

Mike Potter, Director

More items of interest:

UCSF COVID Patient and Community Advisory Board

The UCSF COVID-19 Research Patient and Community Advisory Board (PCAB) provides review and feedback for UCSF clinical and translational research directly related to COVID-19. Intense public concern about the COVID-19 pandemic and evidence of profound inequities in the pandemic's toll on communities of color and low-income communities accentuate the importance of community engagement in the conduct of clinical research on COVID-19. The COVID-19 Research PCAB is a group of diverse experts, including patients, leaders of clinical systems, community-based organizations, civic agencies, and other community members who have a stake in the outcomes of COVID-19 research. All investigators conducting COVID-related clinical and community research are strongly encouraged to obtain a consultation from the UCSF COVID-19 PCAB. Request a COVID-19 PCAB review session by requesting a Community-Engaged Research Consultation. For more information, please email abby.cabrera@ucsf.edu.

UCSF Department of Humanities and Social Sciences Grand Rounds July 24th

12:00-1:00PM—Zoom Only

This presentation offers a novel intervention that seeks to mitigate obstetric racism by capturing patient experiences through the development and validation of a patient informed measure for, by, and with Black birthing people.

At the end of the presentation, the participants will be able to:

- Describe the kinds of interactions that express obstetric racism in social and clinical encounters through the narratives of Black birthing people
- Explain the value of narratives in measure development and hospital performance
- Utilize the participatory patient reported measure of obstetric racism to transform maternal and perinatal research and quality improvement

About the presenters:

Dána-Ain Davis is an anthropologist and the Director of the Center for the Study of Women and Society at the Graduate Center, City University of New York. She is the author of Reproductive Injustice: Racism, Pregnancy, and Premature Birth

Karen A. Scott is a Reproductive Justice informed Perinatal Epidemiologist and OB/GYN Hospitalist at the Department of Obstetrics, Gynecology, Reproductive Sciences at the University of California, San Francisco.

Join COVID-19 Citizen Science Study

We invite every adult with a smartphone to combat the COVID-19 pandemic by contributing their data for science! Please join the COVID-19 Citizen Science Study, a fully remote, mobile-app based study developed and run by UCSF investigators. Just text COVID to 41411, and you'll get a link you can use to learn about the study and download the app. We encourage everyone to spread the word, as UCSF researchers hope to enroll at least a million people from all over the world. Questions? email mark.pletcher@ucsf.edu.
